BARONESS DE ROPP TELLS WOMEN OF RASPUTIN POWER

Relates Russian's Strange Life and Death; Tells About His Hypnotic Strength

How Rasputin gained power and imperial favor in Russia by means of mysticism and his hypnotic powers, was told to a large audience of members of the Tuesday Afternoon club at its meeting at Masonic temple yesterday afternoon by Baroness Otilly de Ropp, who was born and educated in Russia, and who obtained her information about Rasputin either directly from her husband or intimate friends.

"The tremendous influence held by Rasputin would not have been possible in this country," she stated, "because through the churches the minds of the people have been swept clear of the superstitions and mysticisms which prevail in the foreign countries, and where it overshadows the minds of the people. Rasputin's power was not only over the poor and ignorant people but over the highly educated and also the sovereigns of Russia.

"Rasputin was born in the northern part of Siberia, where they have enormous forests and swamps. The winters there are very long and hard. His birthplace was a little village. Besides the Russians who live in Siberia there are many Mongol tribes or nomads, who roam over the vast swamps and prairies.

Called Very Brutal

"The father of Rasputin was a peasant of very low order and low morality, and his mother was a nomad. Brought up in this atmosphere and in these surroundings he was very brutal and malicious. He drank to excess, fought to success and no woman was safe from him. His wife was a woman he deliberately bought from one of the nomadic tribes. After his marriage he did not attempt to better his ways and was often in conflict with the police and was punished.

"After that he would go to a monastery to pray for forgiveness and repent his sins and gain strength to commit new excesses. One time while there he met a Siberian monk and became greatly interested in him and decided that he would become a monk. This man taught him to read and write. When he came out of the monastery he built a chapel and set

Safety Valve Hits High C; Everybody Hits for Safety

Excitement enough for one afternoon at the Jensen Palace Grand Shops excavation.

That's what everybody said yesterday.

First, the blooming, blinkety blank machinery broke a pinion gear that made it necessary to haul the big steam shovel out of the hole with chain and tackle.

In the midst of this work the crowd in the T. D. & L. theatre and patrons of nearby stores and offices were rudely shocked by the safety valve on the boiler blowing out.

Everybody was thrilled but the engineer.

Oh, See! De City Directory Is Seedy! Page Alpha Bett!

The accusation has been made that Glendale has some "seedy" individuals.

A thorough search of the city reveals that no one looks thattaway, but in scanning the news columns it will be noted that there is a C. D. Lusby, who happens to be cashier of the Glendale State bank.

And C. D. Gulick, consulting traffic expert with the city.

And C. D. Thom, one of the most widely known realty owners and operators in the vicinity.

And C. D. Day, auditor with the Charles B. Guthrie realty firm.

Tomorrow night Dr. Remsen DuBois Bird, president of Occidental college, will be the principal speaker. All the graduates, or others interested in that institution, are expected to attend in force.

Not to forget the fact that 1000 members and their wives may enjoy the dinner, also.

One month from now, Thursday night, March 16, R. B. von Klein Smid, president of the University of Southern California, will speak. The Trojans will have their inning that night.

Stecher, Mrs. Henry Schafer, Mrs. F. A. Alspach, Mrs. William Alexander, Mrs. D. B. Edwards, Mrs. F. G. Hartman, Mrs. Al Cawood, Mrs. H. L. Duke and Mrs. E. W. Evans, the hostess. BUSINESS WOMEN WILL GIVE SHOWS

Series of Entertainments Plan of Organization to Help Finance Rest Rooms

At the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club, of which Mrs. Margaret Biggs is president, and which was held in the club rooms last night, plans were formulated for a series of three entertainments to be given by that organization for the purpose of financing the rest rooms which have been established in the Coker & Taylor bulding on Brand boulevard near Harvard street.

Miss Ethel Preston, chairman of the rest room financing committee, submitted plans for the entertaintainment, which were unanimously adopted. It is also proposed to have the members write jingles about various business establishments in Glendale, for which a prize will be awarded, and then for the committee to sell these merchants the jingle advertisements for the program to be used in connection with the entertainments.

Artists who will be secured for these various entertainments include Cristabel Pankhurst, daughter of Mrs. Sylvia Pankhurst, Harry Girard and company, who will present a musical concert, and also the presentation by Miss Alma Geiger with the Cadman trio of Longfellow's "Hiawatha" with Indian stage setting and costuming. The music to this has been written by Charles Wakefield Cadman. Dates of these entertainments have not as yet been set.

Rooms Meeting Needs

Mrs. E. P. Beck of the System Dye Works, chairman of the rest room committee, gave an excellent report of what is being accomplished and how the rooms are meeting the need of many of the business women. So much interest has been aroused that one business woman gave her check for $60 to cover one month's rent. Until the rooms and lunches served are able to pay for the rent and other expenses, it will be necessary for the club to assume the responsibility and for that reason the entertainments have been decided on.

Mrs. Jack Thomas has been appointed chairman of the program advertising committee., Miss Myrtle Knapp, chairman of the tickets, Mrs. Beck as the treasurer and Miss Preston as general chairman of this rest room financing committee who will have charge of putting on the entertainments.

An invitation was received by the organization from the City Teachers' club to attend a reception to be given by them. Reports read at the business meeting showed a membership in the Business and Professional Women's club of 150 and $63.97 in the treasury. At the close of the business meeting various jingles written by the club members were read regarding their work or place of employment which were very clever and were greatly appreciated by those present.

TRIPLE SLAYING IS RESULT OF DOMESTIC QUARREL

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—A domestic quarrel resulted in a triple slaying here today. George A. Boden, 45, an attorney, called at the home of his wife from whom he was separated and following an altercation over money matters, shot and killed Mrs. Boden, her mother, Mrs. Julia Taylor, 66, and then fired a shot into his own head, dying instantly. Boden, police said, fired a shot into his wife's body as they were standing in a reception hall. The bullet entered her heart and she dropped dead. The attorney then ran to the rear of the house where he fired a shot at his mother-in-law. The bullet entered her head above the left eye and she fell dead. Returning to the dining room, Boden reloaded his 38-calibre revolver and fired a shot into his own head. The wife's sister, Mrs. Bessie Walters, was in a bedroom. She fled by leaping from a window and sought refuge in a neighbor's house. The Bodens had three children. They were at school. It was stated that Mrs. Boden filed suit for divorce in December and was awarded temporary alimony of $165 a month. Boden went to the house this morning and offered an alimony payment. It was while his wife was preparing a receipt that he shot her.

HARDING TO MAKE SPEECHES FOR SOME CANDIDATES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—President Harding's trip to the Pacific coast and Alaska next summer, it was learned on high authority here today, probably will include a number of speeches in support of the campaigns of certain candidates for congress. Plans for the president's long sojourn into the west and far north are gradually shaping themselves into definite form, though as yet the White House has announced no itinerary. Unforeseen circumstances may cause the trip to be cancelled or postponed for another year, but at present it was said the president is confident he will be able to make the trip. Scott Bone, governor of Alaska, who now is in this city, is actively engaged in making arrangements for the president's projected tour. The governor is equally confident that the president will be able to make the trip.

ARRESTS FOR BLACKMAIL MAY SOLVE TAYLOR CASE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Will the arrest early today of a gang of eight alleged blackhanders offer a key to the solution of the mysterious murder two weeks ago of William Desmond Taylor, famous film director? Authorities sought an answer to this question today through a grilling of the eight prisoners who were arrested after a gun battle in which a ninth member of the gang was wounded

HEAR FIGURES AND FACTS FOR CITY OWNED SYSTEM

No Use for P. E. Officials to Come to Glendale and 'Just Talk,' Declared

TRAFFIC EXPERT TELLS TENTATIVE FARES AND ROUTE FOR BUS LINE

Two big things the people want to know in connection with the proposed municipal bus line were outlined tentatively yesterday by C. D. Gulick, consulting traffic expert.

First, the fares he suggests are similar to those formerly charged by the interurban, 15 cents one way, 25 cents round trip; $5.80 for a sixty-two ride book, good for ninety days, from Broadway and Brand to the Los Angeles terminal; $4.50 for a similar book from southern Glendale points.

Second, the tentative route will be south from Broadway on Brand-Glendale boulevard to Second and Figueroa streets, south on Figueroa street to Eighth, east on Eighth to Olive, north on Olive to a terminal yet to be decided upon, some place within four or five blocks from the business center of Los Angeles.

"It is the sense of the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce here present that they indorse the movement now under way by the city council to secure a bus line permit operating between here and Los Angeles,"

The foregoing motion by C. D. Lusby was adopted by a nine to three vote late yesterday afternoon by the Chamber's directorate after a lengthy session with the city council in which every confidence was expressed that the determined fight to gain lower passenger fares between Glendale and Los Angeles will be won if it takes a $125,000 bond issue for a municipal bus line.

Tomorrow Mayor Spencer Robinson and other city officials will appear before the Los Angeles board of public utilities to present their application for a permit for the line, all preliminaries having been shaped up by C. D. Gulick, consulting traffic expert.

Frank Karr, chief counsel for the Pacific Electric, precipitated this action in his written request for a hearing by the Chamber of Commerce here, at which time Vice-President and General Manager D. W. Pontius was to discuss the "grave economic problem" involved.

Passed Over to Council

The request, as well as the balance of the board's session, was turned over to the council and other city officials and Mayor Robinson reviewed the fact that Mr. Karr had made a similar request at the first conference with the board of public utilities.

"I told Mr. Karr then that he had no authority to lower the fares and that he just wanted to come out here and spar for time until after the railroad commission completes its rehearing," the mayor confided to his hearers.

Christian Circle Club in Enthusiastic Meet

Always enthusiastic, the Christian Circle club met as usual last night at the Baptist church and the women of the First Methodist church served the dinner, which also, as usual, was delicious. The Presbyterians had thirteen present, First Methodist seven, Casa Verdugo M. E. nine, Lutheran one, Pacific Avenue M. E. four, Tropico Presbyterian two, Central Avenue Methodist two, Baptist eleven, Congregational four, Christian fourteen, making a total of sixty-seven. Further plans for a "father and daughter" night next week were discussed while the bible lesson was taught, by Miss Maud E. Soper.

Hello, Central! Is It Possible Mr. Deal Got Wrong Number?

"Have you taken out the permit for the new garage at the rear of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company plant here?"

That was the question put to Fred Deal, local manager.

"Yes, we took out that permit last August," he replied, "but the construction crews have been so busy installing new lines, etc., etc., that only now they have gotten around to the garage!"

True, sadly true, the telephone officials have been so busy that even the amount the improvement will cost has been forgotten.

but escaped. The gang is alleged to have blackmailed prominent Los Angeles business men in the past few months out of more than a hundred thousand dollars. Investigators said that $45,000 had been extorted from one citizen within the past few weeks and when the arrests were made last night it was through a "plant," the gang having expected to secure $25,000 from the head of a large corporation here. Police were close upon the trail of the ninth member of the gang, thought to be the leader. According to federal authorities who directed the raid in which the arrests were made, the gang operated by means of blackhand letters threatening death in some cases and exposure of scandal in others. Facts in the hands of investigators led them to believe the band to be a part of a highly organized local blackhand and blackmailing organization. The eight arrested all are foreigners. They gave the names of John Marich, Emil Gutte, Mike Kzarich, August Bellich, Frank Sargo, Henry Susich, Jack Randoff and Harry Akolsa. Meanwhile the police, sheriff's office and District Attorney Woolwine proceeded in their efforts to solve the mystery by the process of elimination. Every alleged fact so far known in the case is being rechecked. The officers find that they have much misinformation due to lack of co-ordination in the early part of the investigation. Today two important matters were to be gone into. In an effort to get accurate information concerning the financial status of Taylor, District Attorney Woolwine planned to question Mrs. J. M. Berger, income tax expert, who advised the director regarding his tax return on the afternoon before he was slain. She also talked to him over the telephone less than an hour before the fatal shot is believed to have been fired. Taylor apparently was engaged in the task of filling out the tax blank when killed.

MADALYNNE OBENCHAIN'S LOVE LETTERS BEING READ

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Madalynne Connor Obenchain faced today one of the most trying days of her trial on the charge of being implicated in the murder of J. Belton Kennedy in a love triangle, according to prosecution attorneys who planned to continue reading scores of love letters written by her to the slain broker. After completing the introduction in evidence of love notes written in the days of the tragic romance, the state today reached the letters in which Mrs. Obenchain was urging Kennedy to meet and to marry her. By the notes, the district attorney contends, is being built up the foundation of the charge that Mrs. Obenchain plotted the murder after being placed in the position of "a woman scorned." The letters today showed Mrs. Obenchain leaving the east, visiting Canadian resorts and then going to San Francisco, from where, she wrote to Kennedy in Los Angeles, urging him to meet her there. In one letter, the attractive defendant insisted she would board a boat for Honolulu if Kennedy did not join her by a certain date. The reading of the scores and scores of letters was adroitly planned by the prosecution. The first batch of the documentary evidence was introduced when a sheaf of telegrams were identified by witnesses.

BODIES OF TWO MEN AND WOMAN ARE FOUND IN ICE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 15.—The bodies of two men and a woman, all about 40 years old, and as yet unidentified, were today found frozen in the ice of Brush creek, near the south limits of the city. They had been riding in a Ford coupe, which during the night had swerved from the roadway and had plunged twenty-five feet into the creek. Unable to escape from the partly immersed automobile, they had perished, either from drowning or from exposure in the icy waters of the creek.

Plan Local Bus Lines Streets Need Attention
Legion to Build Big Tridon on Taylor Case

By Gil A. Cowan

LOCAL bus lines running from Broadway and Brand boulevard on figure eight routes were suggested yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

Two busses, one going northeast and southwest and the other traversing the northwest and southeast sections of the city, would give twenty-minute service to any part of town, according to C. D. Gulick.

Perhaps Mr. Gulick has not been a passenger on the bus line now operated by the Pacific Electric Land company on a similar plan from Cypress avenue and Brand boulevard, but, if he had, there is one thing certain. That is, he would never say a bus could travel on a twenty-minute schedule over streets as they are in the west side of Glendale.

All of which should not be considered criticism, but fact. No matter what the cost of improvement there are certain streets that need attention of the property owners, the council, or whoever is responsible.

Central, Columbus and Pacific avenues actually are in dangerous shape. And that isn't all. Some of the side streets are absolutely impassable to anything short of a tractor. At least they were a week ago and if the city has improved them in the meantime—all the more credit.

The Glendale post of the American Legion is planning something mighty fine in the way of a home, it is rumored, although the executive committee dines at the Glen Inn while discussing the future—and there isn't much secret about that.

At any rate, Commander James F. McBryde and the rest were in session last night and talked over several sites and in a few days they hope to be able to announce something big, not only for the former service men, but the whole city as well.

When science tries to explain the Taylor murder, somebody had better hire a regular detective. Mildred Morris, International News Service correspondent, obtained the following from Adre Tridon, the famous French psycho-analyst:

"Taylor was a man with many women in his life," said the noted psycho-analyst. "In my opinion, a woman killed him in a jealous huff."

The "anger gland" is responsible for one's emotions of anger or violence, said Tridon. Scientifically, it is called the adrenal gland.

"In the blonde it is less developed than in the brunette, consequently she is less violent," he continued.

"And so, if a man killed Taylor, we may be reasonably certain that he was a blonde."

It was called to Tridon's attention that Taylor was spoken of as a "quiet man."

"Why do quiet men attract women?" he was asked.

"For the simple reason that they don't talk," the psycho-analyst answered.

"They keep quiet about their heart affairs and when they have several women in their lives never tell one about the other."

M. Tridon may be right about heart affairs, but the facts in the murder indicate that some man did the killing and that person knew more about Taylor than most of those working on the case have learned.

Patriotic Program at Pacific Avenue School

The program of the Pacific avenue Parent-Teacher Association at the school Thursday afternoon will be preceded by a board meeting at 2:30 o'clock. The regular meeting will be at 3 o'clock when a patriotic program and celebration of the founding twenty-five years ago of the national parent-teacher association will be combined. There will be a talk by Rev. Harley Preston, vocal numbers by Mrs. William MacMullin, and talk on the founding of the congress of mothers and parent-teacher associations by Mrs. J. C. Danford, city librarian. A birthday cake will be another feature of the meeting.

BARONESS DE ROPP TELLS WOMEN OF RASPUTIN POWER

out to preach. He found that he had an enormous power on the audience, especially the women. He hypnotized them with his small, gray, piercing eyes until they were willing to do anything he wanted. He had no knowledge of what hypnotism was and in his ignorance considered it as a God given power, as did also the people.

"He very carefully cultivated his slight resemblance to the appearance of Christ as generally pictured. His eyes, however, were not Christ-like and there was nothing kind in them. Even in his photographs his eyes seemed to bore right into yours."

Great Power Over Women

Among other things told in Baroness de Ropp's interesting talk, was Rasputin's great power over women, especially those of an excitable nature, and how he exerted his powers even over the titled people. She told of how he was introduced into the family of the czar and czarina and of the fake miracle he performed and by which he gained such a strong hold with the imperial family.

"While Rasputin was visiting in his native town he was attacked and his assassination attempted by someone he had wronged," the speaker said. "It was during his illness that the war broke out and Russia became involved. It was not believed that this would have been possible if Rasputin had not been ill, for he was greatly against war and would have exerted his influence with the imperial family to have kept Russia out of the conflict.

"The people who came to Rasputin for help included all classes, from the highest social class, military officers, and so on down to the poor people. Rasputin distributed many alms to the poor and had charge of many institutions which were under the auspices of the young czarina.

Given Poisoned Wine

"The people finally became infuriated with Rasputin, however, but he was clever enough to show only his best side to the imperial family. When the whole empire became so much against him one of the grand dukes and princes decided to put him out of the way. It was through Rasputin's desire to meet the daughter of the Grand Duke Constantine, who was the wife of a prince, that he met his death. A grand duke, military official, and the prince and husband of this woman met at the latter's home. Rasputin had been invited there by the husband, the prince, and while supposedly waiting for her to appear was offered a large goblet of port wine, which contained a big dose of strychnine.

"After the prince had given this to Rasputin, he lost his nerve and ran up the stairs to where the grand duke and military officials were awaiting the outcome, and there fainted away. While trying to revive him they heard footsteps on the stairs and taking his revolver with him the grand duke saw Rasputin, with distorted features, attempting to climb the stairs. He fired two shots, which killed Rasputin.

"The body was then taken in the prince's private car and was buried in the ice at a distant point. When he did not appear the next day a great search was made. Suspicion was aroused and the czar called a conference with the grand duke and banished him to the eastern front."

Baroness de Ropp closed her talk by expressing the gratitude of Russia to America and also the personal gratitude of herself and husband for kindness shown them since coming to this country.

Section Announcements

The lecture by Baroness de Ropp was preceded by a short business meeting in charge of Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president, during which the following section announcements were made:

Parliamentary law, meets at home of Mrs. W. H. Verity, Thursday afternoon, February 23, at 1 o'clock; arts and crafts, Thursday from 10 until 4 at the library; open meeting of Shakespeare section next Monday at home of Mrs. Bert Ward; drama section, Friday at home of Mrs. Harry Lockwood.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery urged cooperation in program to be given by Shakespeare section at Chamber of Commerce auditorium February 23.

Mrs. Hutchinson spoke about the members aiding in the near east relief and asked for donations of clothing for the relief ship which is soon leaving southern California for the near east.

At the close of the lecture a social half-hour was enjoyed, during which refreshments of tea, served from a Russian samovar, and wafers were served.

AT RESEARCH HOSPITAL

The fame of the Glendale Research Hospital having reached Arizona, George H. Hagon was brought here yesterday from Yuma by members of his family. He is now quite ill.

"Tommie" Monroe of the Urban Military Academy, nephew of Dr. C. W. Taylor of 353 West Patterson avenue, has returned to the hospital for further treatment.

Mrs. Robert W. Folkers, 617 North Adams street, was taken to the hospital yesterday afternoon on account of pneumonia.

The man who always says just what he means may be an admirable character, but he wouldn't shine in diplomatic circles.

Program of Patriotism at D. of V. Gathering

An interesting feature of last night's meeting of Mary Jane Gillette Tent No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, was the reading of specially written articles on the life of Washington, Lincoln and McKinley by Mrs. Agnes Richardson, Mrs. Hattie Tiffany and Mrs. Pearl Moore. At the request of the president, Mrs. Susie Peck, the members of the tent were favored by a vocal solo "Massa Lincoln" by Comrade Robert M. Taylor. Mrs. Jennie Tincher, who bears the unique distinction of being the wife as well as a daughter of a veteran, was initiated into the tent.

The committee, of which Mrs. Lillian Peckham is chairman, and which has charge of the card party to be given in American Legion hall on February 28 reported progress with the sale of tickets and also expressed appreciation of the exceptionally attractive prizes which have been donated by Robinson's Men Shop and Hatz Ladies' Furnishings store.

At the close of the meeting refreshments appropriate to Valentine's day were served by Mrs. Alma Dutton and Mrs. Susie Peck.

J. G. Smith Appointed as High School Teacher

J. G. Smith of Los Angeles was appointed teacher of forge work at Glendale Union high school last night by the high school board of trustees. Principal George U. Moyse explained that Mr. Smith was well competent to fill the position on account of his practical experience as well as theoretical knowledge of forge work. He will take both the new and old classes in this subject relieving the overcrowded program of George Lockwood.

Architecture for the new high school plant was not discussed. Herman Nelson and William Baker of the Glendale branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank brought up several details in regard to the escrow of the deed of sale for the property which were settled.

Far too many people want diamonds, decollete gowns, tailored suits and silk shirts without first being willing to use alarm clocks, aprons, overalls and flannel shirts.

There is too much envy of wealth and too little willingness to work for it.

CLOSE IN PROPERTY WILL BE OFFERED BY SUBDIVISION

Glendale Manor Lots on Market and Sales Are in Charge of Big Organization

Close in subdivision property has not been disposed of, according to Dickinson & Gillespie, Inc. This company known as heavy operators throughout the western states, with offices in Los Angeles and Minneapolis, claim that eighty acres have been entirely overlooked in the present active market.

Mr. Dickinson declared that until the day when he purchased this property, he had no idea that a good subdivision in this territory was still available. The property is located along Glendale boulevard, within the limits of the city of Los Angeles and just outside Glendale.

"Acting upon telegraphic advice from our Minneapolis office, I resolved to investigate this territory," he said. "It hardly seemed possible there should be an opportunity of such evident merit still uncovered.

"In common with out eastern representatives we had shared the hope that we might be fortunate enough to secure a small portion of the limited territory between Glendale, the fastest growing city in the world, and Los Angeles. Needless to say, I snapped up this wonderful opportunity without delay."

Named Glendale Manor

Indicative of its location, the new tract will be marketed under the name of Glendale Manor, although it is entirely within the limits of the city of Los Angeles, four miles from the new Second street tunnel and within two miles of the business center of Glendale.

That this acreage has not been on the market is evidenced by the fact that for nearly forty years it has been held in the name of Mrs. Harrington Brown, wife of a former postmaster of Los Angeles.

It is of interest that many years ago this same tract was laid out as a townsite and named Minneapolis, and now a concern originally from the same city is about to again subdivide it and make it available for home seekers.

Clifford Gillespie arrived here from the east recently to share with Mr. Dickinson the personal supervision of the developing and marketing of Glendale Manor, it was stated.

He Is Well Pleased

"Glendale Manor is the entire fulfillment of my expectations," was his first comment upon viewing the tract.

"In our twenty years of subdivision experience this is the first time that we have been privileged to offer low-priced lots directly between the two fastest growing cities of the United States and in the midst of immense development.

"To secure high, level subdivision acreage, close in and surrounded by an enormous population is a good fortune that we had scarcely dreamed of.

"We have always endeavored to appeal to the homeowner and the man of moderate means, concentrating upon those subdivision combinations which possess all the qualifications for a real residential community with a homelike atmosphere and safe investment possibilities. In response to the present demand we will permit temporary dwellings on the rear of the lots, but only when they are completely and neatly finished and painted on the exterior.

Praise for Territory

"After having sold hundreds of subdivisions throughout the United States we can truthfully say that we know of no locality comparable with this Glendale-Los Angeles territory."

The development work in Glendale Manor is being carried forward rapidly, it was declared. A corps of surveyors and engineers have completed a plot of modern attractiveness.

During the past week F. B. Burns salesmanager, has organized a selling force of over fifty men who will be fully prepared to give courteous attention and precise information to all interested persons from the morning of the pre-opening sale until the last of the 450 lots is sold.

Tract offices have been erected on Glendale boulevard at Atwater avenue. A handsomely illustrated folder containing a detailed map of Los Angeles and of Glendale has been prepared.

RESOLUTIONS GIVE PRAISE FOR LOCAL FLOOD CONTROL

City Council and Chamber of Commerce Thank County Officials, Engineer

Following are resolutions passed by the city council of Glendale and the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at the request of Peter L. Ferry, a director of latter body, in token of appreciation and gratitude of the people of Glendale for the splendid and effective work of the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county, also J. W. Regan, chief engineer of the flood control:

"Whereas, The city council and the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, representing the citizenship of Glendale through the city council and the board of directors, observant of the many weighty and perplexed matters constantly coming before the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county and J. W. Regan, chief engineer of flood control, and

"Whereas, The broad business judgment and vision displayed by these public officials is such that should warrant the commendation of their entire constituency in the handling of their affairs in all public matters brought to their attention and initiated by them, and

Praise Devil's Gate Dam

"Whereas, We recognize in the construction of the Devil's Gate Dam, near Pasadena across the Arroyo Seco, a project of engineering planned by J. W. Regan and supported by our board of supervisors, and the many other matters affecting flood control which means so much to the people of California, engineering skill, economic and permanent construction, unparalleled, and

"Whereas, During the floods of 1922 when the people of Glendale were facing peril, destruction and danger with flood waters, the said supervisors and engineers responded and came to our aid on a moment's notice, eliminating the red-tape that is usual in such matters, thereby saving great property loss and mental anxiety.

Extends Vote of Thanks

"Now, therefore be it resolved by the city council of Glendale and the Chamber of Commerce, through its board of directors in regular joint session held this date, that we extend a vote of thanks and confidence to our county supervisors and J. W. Regan, chief engineer of the flood control, for their splendid work and business management in conducting the affairs of their high trust in a manner satisfactory to their constituency, loyal to their obligations and economical in their administrative duties.

"Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the city council of Glendale, the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, a copy sent to the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county and a copy to The Glendale Evening News.

Dated this 14th day of February, 1922.

"SPENCER ROBINSON,
"Mayor of the City of Glendale.
"JAS. M. RHOADES,
Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Glendale."

HEAR FIGURES AND FACTS FOR CITY OWNED SYSTEM

ers. "There is no benefit to be derived for the citizens of Glendale from such a hearing as Mr. Karr seeks—not unless the railroad commission would reverse its decision."

Councilman Davis stated that he thought it was impossible for Messrs. Karr and Pontius to do anything for Glendale other than to talk and he added that "before we invite them over here we ought to know what they are coming for."

Cost Is Outlined

Mr. Gulick then outlined the cost of installing a municipal bus line, the number of passengers to be carried, the advertising to be gained and other advantages of the contemplated service. In answering the questions of the directors, he stated that he had found it a wise policy to put in the best equipment which will minimize expenses in operation and maintenance.

From his own personal experiences as an operator of auto stage lines in northern California and as secretary for the Motor Carriers' association, he gave an invaluable fund of information which he has laid before the city council for consideration.

He related how the commissioner of streets and structures in New York had successfully operated motor busses on lines abandoned by the surface street cars, how the Tidewater & Southern Railway company between San Francisco and Stockton lost $150,000 in one year's competition with stages and he presented figures to show that Glendale could operate a municipal bus line much more economically than those concerns which already are proven successes.

"I do not know why people prefer to travel in automobiles instead of luxurious railroad trains, but they do. The only answer I know is that of expediency. In the railroad commission reports you will find that stage lines are referred to as the more modern means of transportation while railroads are considered as fast becoming antiquated.

"The Pacific Electric is going to replace its present lines with busses," he declared. "I do not know this for a proven fact, but the railroad commission knows it and not only advises it, but shows how the carrier corporations can evade paying a large amount of tax by operating under some subsidiary concern, such as the Pacific Electric Land company."

Attorney Owen C. Emery expressed the belief that after the commission's hearing it would be possible for Glendale people to approach the Pacific Electric officials to better advantage.

City Attorney Bert P. Woodard stated the railroad commission was "up against it" and would have to swallow its own opinion if the city of Glendale does not lose its suit. He pointed to the fact that Gov. William D. Stephens had appealed for reconsideration as a significant fact favoring the cities affected by the increased fares.

Then followed the drafting of the resolution indorsing the council's action with the following vote being recorded:

Ayes—Jesse Smith, V. M. Hollister, Peter L. Ferry, J. G. Huntley, Roy L. Kent, C. D. Lusby, R. D. White, C. E. Kimlin and D. L. Gregg.

Noes—Daniel Campbell, Owen C. Emery and J. A. Newton.

REGIONAL PLANNING IS DISCUSSED AT C. OF C. MEET

Highways, Zoning, Sewers and Subdivisions Topics Taken Up by Organization

G. Gordon Whitnall, secretary of the Los Angeles city planning commission, who is also actively connected with the Los Angeles county regional planning conference, was the principal speaker at the February meeting of the board of directors of the San Fernando Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce, held at the Hollywood Country club.

Mr. Whitnall set forth some of the aims and purposes of the recently-organized regional planning conference. He stated that the city planning commission will in the near future ask the Los Angeles city council to abandon the department connected with the securing of additional territory by annexation, inasmuch as the regional planning conference expects to secure practically the same results, as far as the problems affecting the entire county with Los Angeles as a center are concerned, by co-ordinating the work of all these communities in such a manner as to assure uniform action on matters affecting entire districts.

Favors More Highways

Among some of the questions discussed by Mr. Whitnall were zoning, highways, sewers and subdivisions, showing where some of the mistakes made by the older cities of the east could be avoided by intelligent and co-operative action. He especially emphasized the necessity for more and better highways in and out of Los Angeles, giving as a concrete example the proposed "Riverside drive" along Elysian and Griffith parks, one branch of which is planned to follow the river to a point near the Olive avenue bridge and thence through Lankershim, the other to run in a straight line from Griffith park on the lower side of the S. P. tracks to the Empire China factory. He explained that it would be necessary for Los Angeles city and county and Burbank to co-operate in order to fully carry out the project. This will parallel San Fernando Road.

Two Protests Voiced

Hugh Pomeroy, representing the entire south and west coast of Los Angeles county, voiced the sentiments of that section in a bitter protest against the Los Angeles outfall sewer at Hyperion and the temporary expedient employed by that city in running raw sewage out on the flat country back of Playa del Rey in an effort to keep the sewage from running out of the manholes in the more densely crowded districts. He also submitted a resolution passed by the Fourth District Associated Chambers protesting against the proposed "Windrem" plan of one state senator from each county instead of basing representation on population as at present carried out under the state constitution. A resolution along similar lines will be presented by a committee at the next meeting of the Valley Chambers.

Start Campaign Against 'Rapid Fire Promoters'

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. — Vigorous warfare against frenzied financiers who are accused of mulcting thousands of their depositors, is under way today, with state and federal authorities co-operating as the result of revelations that have followed the exposure of the $5,000,000 failure of Raymond J. Bischoff, called the "Chicago Ponzi."

The so-called "rapid fire promoters" who are said to operate by promises of quick returns and large profits on small investments are the target of the campaign.

Leslie Harrington, a "broker," is the latest to be sought by the police and federal detectives. Harrington is said to have fled shortly before his office was raided, leaving behind debts estimated at from $1,000,000 to $4,000,000. Three men were arrested in the raid on Harrington's office. More than 100 persons had surrounded Harrington's office and were clamoring for their money when the police arrived.

Two others who have been hit in the campaign are Casimir Phillipovich and M. P. West. They have been arrested as moving spirits in the Western Land Operators' company, which federal investigators charge has swindled investors out of more than $1,000,000 through fake land leases. Phillipovitch is said to have been associated at one time with Bischoff.

He Is Aiding in Relief of Russia's Famine Sufferers

EDGAR RICKARD

Active in the work of the American Relief administration, which is now engaged in carrying out its program of feeding the famine-stricken in Russia, is Edgar Rickard, director of the ARA, whose headquarters are at 42 Broadway, New York.

"Our purpose is to save the lives of as many of these suffering unfortunates as possible," says Mr. Rickard, who is also a member of the purchasing commsision for Russian relief, appointed by President Harding shortly after the signing of the $20,000,000 Russian relief appropriation.

Herbert Hoover, chairman of the ARA, is the head of the commission. Other members are former Governor James P. Goodrich of Indiana, Don Livingston, a representative of the farm bureau and state agricultural commissioner of South Dakota, and E. M. Flesh, treasurer of the United States Grain corporation.

The purchasing commission for Russian relief is bending every effort towards facilitating the speedy shipment of the needed commodities to the famine regions. Large quantities of supplies, grown and purchased in America are being sent as fast as American ships can be chartered and loaded.

Secretary Hoover has announced that 3,000,000 bushels of grain have been shipped as of January 25 and instructions given to rush the shipment of further cargoes.

NEARLY TWO MILES OF WIRE USED IN CHURCH ORGAN

Hundreds of Pipes Required by Instrument; Twilight Recitals to Pay Cost

"When a church orders a pipe organ, there is hardly a member of the congregation, who realize even in a small way, what it means," remarked Harry Girard recently, commenting on the next Twilight Recital to be given Sunday at the Glendale Theatre.

"The new organ for the Church of the Holy Family will contain nearly two miles of electric wire and hundreds of pipes ranging from two inches long and as thin as a lead pencil up to sixteen feet long and as thick as a 50-year-old tree. Almost every metal ranging from tin and zinc to platinum is used. The electric action or console is as intricate and far more delicate in its mechanism than a fine watch. A vast amount of expert technical work is required in the construction of such an organ.

Very Complete Organ

"While this is not a large organ, as they are built now-a-days, it is most complete for the purpose. It cannot fail to magnify the religious atmosphere in which it will be used and its installation in Glendale should be a source of congratulation to everyone.

"Speaking about organs, how many people know that the largest organ in the world is in St. Bartholomew's church, New York, a gift from the Vanderbilt family. It has 146 speaking stops and cost approximately $200,000. Five years were required to install the 18,000 pipes. It costs $10,000 a year just to keep it in tune.

"The Holy Family organ has only thirty-one speaking stops. Six of these are in what is known as the great organ, six more in the swell organ, five in the pedal organ, six used to make combinations and eight as accessories. All stops may be manipulated in their regular order by a single movement of the foot. By reversing the movement stops are canceled in their inverse order.

Second Recital Sunday

"Air for this organ will be furnished by an electric rotary blower operated by an electric generator. A wind indicator will indicate the amount of air available."

The installation in Glendale of this instrument is being accomplished through a series of twilight recitals at the Glendale Theatre. The second will take place Sunday starting at 4 p. m. A program will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Henri La Bonte, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard, Frank Egan and John Marquardt. Paul Carson will be at the organ.

Casa Verdugo Society to Give Big Dinner

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church will meet Thursday at the church parlors. Mrs. John W. Cotton, the president, will preside, and arrangements will be completed for the dinner, to be given next week, in the new basement rooms. These rooms have just been completed by the men, members of the church, who have worked nights, after their business hours. Three gas ranges have been donated, one by Dr. J. C. Eckles and two by other members, and are now installed in the kitchen, and this dinner will be served as a "house warming."

Telling folks not to be jealous is like telling them not to worry.

The Greatest Lot Sale of the Age

Never before in the history of Los Angeles have you been offered such realty bargains and never again will you be offered terms that every man, woman or child can afford.

A LANDSLIDE

Los Angeles and Glendale are today in the grip of a great real estate fever as the result of our announcements. Just as we predicted, our sale has created a stampede of frantic buying of home lots that has marked this the greatest sale in the history of our business, as all our selling records have been smashed.

From morning till night scores of prospective home builders and far-sighted investors with an ingrowing hunger for the advantages and fat profits that should come to those who get first choice of this investment and home tract have called, phoned, inspected and bought already and the demand is ever growing greater daily, over 150 lots of advanced reservations, aggregating $100,000 in value, having already been sold.

GLENDALE MANOR

In Los Angeles Adjoining Glendale with the Advantages of Both

Situated between the two fastest growing and building cities in America. A section in the very pathway of the greatest development almost completely encircled by thriving modern growing residential communities, a chain of prominent boulevards.

Location Is Everything

Glendale or Brand Boulevards and San Fernando Boulevard, each only a short distance; the P. E. car line three blocks; only 18 minutes from Sixth and Broadway and a scant four miles from the New Second Street Tunnel. The Eagle Rock Car 5 cent fare walking distance to the East. The new Gateway business district of Glendale but five blocks. The heart of Glendale a short car ride.

Home Owning Made Easy

There is no real excuse for any self-supporting man or woman for not owning a home or a safe and sound real estate investment, as we have overcome all excuses and exploded all theory to the contrary, with our astounding easy terms. In no other location can real estate be purchased that is quite as desirable, quite as remarkable, quite as well located, close-in and worth while as the beautiful homesites in Glendale Manor.

'Kirk' in Attractive New Stationery Store

The C. H. Kirkman Company's stationery store at 141 South Brand boulevard was open yesterday for the first full day's business. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkman are receiving many compliments upon the appearance of the new establishment. Many are pausing to admire the attractive window display. A certain amount of stock is still en route. The store will specialize in office supplies.

EARLY ROBIN IS HOARSE

ELYRIA, Ohio—Despite the near-zero weather E. I. Detrich insists that the harbingers of spring have already arrived. He reports seeing a robin and several bluejays near his home.

"The robin was perched on a tree a few feet from me," said Detrich. "The bird tried to sing but evidently had a cold, for the noise was hoarse-like and unnatural."

Box Social Benefit Monte Vista Lodge

A box social will be given by the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce tomorrow night for the benefit of Monte Vista lodge and several local people plan to attend this event. A program is being prepared under the direction of Mrs. B. B. Reynolds. Judge Herman Breidt, well known here, will give a number. The lodge has been reopened for undernourished children.

The ability of the natives of Peru to carry loads of 150 pounds up steep inclines at an altitude of 16,000 feet, where the ordinary person would fail, is to be studied by the Royal Society of London. Several scientists recently left London for Peru to test the strain to which the heart and lungs are subjected by carrying heavy loads at such great heights and to endeavor to discover the secret of the natives' resistance to the rarified air.

THE ACME OF POLITENESS

OMAHA, Neb.—Rev Edgar M. Brown, pajama clad, answered the doorbell in person. A deputy handed the pastor a document.

"Ah some word from my wife!" exclaimed the minister.

"Yes; divorce suit summons," replied the officer.

"Thank you," said the preacher.

"Don't mention it," said the deputy.

CATTLE THIEVES COWED

NORFOLK, Neb.—Cattle rustling in this part of the cow country has gone entirely out of style as a result of threats of live stock owners to return to the old-time western methods of dealing with thieves. Cattle thefts in the vicinity of Norfolk were estimated at $50,000 in 1919. They dropped to zero in 1920, with the organization of the Owners' Protective association.

EAGLE ROCK HELPS IN ORGANIZATION OF BOY SCOUTS

Meetings Will Be Held Every Wednesday; Brief Mentions of Glendale's Vicinity

Scout Executive Harold F. Benner reports that a Boy Scout troop has been organized in Eagle Rock, the first work of the kind that has been done under the Verdugo Hills council which covers Glendale, Eagle Rock and Burbank. F. O. Rentsch will be the scoutmaster and Ray Sanders and Fred Schnoor, assistant scoutmasters. These two assistants are veteran scouts, having been in the original Eagle Rock troop over four years. The new organization will be known as Troop No. 1, Eagle Rock, and will meet Wednesday nights at 7 o'clock in the Central school.

Want Numbers on Houses

The Tujunga Chamber of Commerce house numbering committee, through its chairman, reports that the county survey department was ready to make a map of the community and put the numbers upon all lots in a manner that all residents could immediately find their house numbers in a few minutes. The chamber was to order its secretary to write a letter to the board of supervisors requesting same and then the survey department would go to work upon same.

Iron Out the Bumps

Eagle Rock's board of trustees adopted a strong appeal to the powers that be in Los Angeles asking that steps be taken at once to pave the roadway south of Eagle Rock known as Glassell avenue. It was made plain that this is Eagle Rock's main and most direct road into Los Angeles and that the suburban city had done its share by paving Central avenue. Los Angeles officials claim that they are in favor of improving the main arteries leading into that city.

Incorporation Favored

The Verdugo Hill Business association held a spirited meeting last week and the matter of incorporation was taken up and discussed. A vote was taken favoring the incorporation of Tujunga as a sixth-class city. The need of manufactories to meet the demand for employment also was discussed and it was pointed out that there is much natural material which can be worked into commercial products, such as stoneware, pottery, earthenware, cement creations, etc.

Musical Club Meets

The Thursday Morning Musical club held its annual guest night at the beautiful home of Mrs. H. L. Gerry on Windemere and Hill Drive, Eagle Rock. The program was arranged by Miss Leora Johnston. The evening was given over to American folk lore and American composers. Incidentally, the affair was regarded as the birthday party of the club, for three years ago the club was formed. Mrs. Gerry in her introductory speech gave a brief history of the club.

Paris traffic reformers propose to bar the horse from that city's principal streets to make way for motor vehicles. Horses would be used only a few hours at night and then only on unfrequented streets.

'MOLLY-O' WINS BIG CROWDS; WILL BE REPEATED TODAY

More Than 2200 People See It Yesterday; Production Is Declared Perfect

"Molly-O" literally took Glendale by storm when it was presented at the T. D. & L theatre yesterday. More than 2200 Glendale people crowded into the theatre during its initial performances. It is everything in the way of a picture claimed for it—it is one of the biggest—one of the greatest films ever produced. Mabel Normand is simply wonderful and Mack Sennett, the producer, has outdone himself, were expressions of the crowds.

The story of "Molly-O" lifts one up to the heights of humanity—and is colored with fine humor—it is real entertainment every minute of it—and when it's over one only wishes for more.

Today and Tomorrow Only

It will be the attraction at the T. D. & L. theatre today and tomorrow only. As suggested by Ralph Allan plan to go early and send the young folks to the after-school matinee. Regular T. D. & L. popular prices of 17, 28, 33 and 39 cents prevail. It it a great big show for the money.

In addition to "Molly-O," there is a comedy of especial interest, Kinograms and Scenic. George Olsene's playing of the "Molly-O" musical score is very effective and exceedingly appropriate.

"Go see 'Molly-O'—it is wonderful," says Manager Allan.

J. T. Millan Is Guest at J. J. Searles Home

J. T. Millan, candidate for the Republican nomination for state treasurer, is now spending several days in Glendale. Mr. Millan is now city treasurer of San Diego.

J. W. Sefton, vice-president of the San Diego Savings bank, asserts that Mr. Millan during the period of 1920-21 succeeded in securing $80,000 in interest on the city's surplus funds over the estimate made by the city council.

C. G. Selleck, chairman of the San Diego Republican Central committee, states that Mr. Millan caused a saving to the city of over $125,000 in the disposal of municipal bonds in a sluggish market.

John L. Bacon, mayor of San Diego, declares Mr. Millan saved the city considerably over $100,000 last year in his manipulation of municipal funds.

Mr. Millan stated that he is very much impressed with the administration of Friend Richardson as state treasurer and only announced his candidacy for this office after he had been informed that Mr. Richardson would be a candidate for governor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Searles of 643 North Maryland avenue are now entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Millan.

First Steel for Tower of New Hotel Arrives

R. Marshall Ferguson of the Fred B. Davis company, which is to construct the new Glendale Hotel, states that the first steel for the tower from which the structure will be built has arrived on the ground at Glendale avenue and Broadway. The tower will rise twenty-two feet above the top story, and, including the basement, it will be about eight stories in height.

Ordinarily the months of December, January and February are regarded as corprising the winter season. Astronomical tables, however, show the season begins December 21 and ends March 21.

Why Not Yellow Car Line Into Glendale, Asks R. K. Brundage

R. K. Brundage, address not given, sends the following suggestion to The Glendale Evening News relative to the traffic situation now confronting the city. In part he says:

"Why not get the right-of-way from Glassell park, via Verdugo road, to the new high school site and then let the city grant a franchise west on Harvard street to Maryland avenue, paralleling Broadway and Colorado and satisfactory to all of the business district of the city. Operate the yellow cars on this line and give a ten cent fare to Los Angeles with transfer privileges.

"Will the railroad commission uphol da gentlemen's agreement if there is one between the Pacific Electric and the Los Angeles railway company? Will the owners of the land give the right-of-way and can the bonus be raised for such a line? What will be the cost to the yellow car line and what will it pay them?"

That and a half dozen other questions are asked by Mr. Brundage who evidently has not acquainted himself with the city's plan for a more direct bus line servicing all sections of the city.

EVERYBODY'S HAPPY IN GLENDALE, SO NILES IS TOLD

Dr. J. D. Greenamyer, Here From Michigan, Exhibits Clipping From Paper

Dr. J. D. Greenamyer of Niles, Mich., who is visiting at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Retta Greenamyer, has received a clipping from his home town newspaper and under the caption of Visitors' Views, the following comment on Glendale is found:

"I just got a letter from a friend of mine out in Glendale, Calif.," said Edward Miller, guest at the New Forler hotel, today as he gazed reflectively through the hotel lobby window where his eyes met the snow and ice out in the street.

"This friend of mine seems to be more than pleased with everything but one," continued Mr. Miller. "The town seems to have had a remarkable growth, and everybody in Glendale seems to have prospered beyond the fondest hopes, according to my friend's letter. But there is something that overshadows all this, or at least there was when my friend wrote this letter, which was dated only a few days ago.

"If my friend lived in Niles or in any other part of Michigan just now, he would not be bothered at all with what is worrying the citizens of Glendale, Calif.," continued the hotel guest.

"It seems as if there is always a fly in the ointment of human contentment, and what just now wouldn't or doesn't mean anything to the people of this beautiful little city right now is casting a heavy cloud over the inhabitants of Glendale, which is in the southern part of California.

"The citizens of this rapidly growing, prosperous community in the land of fruit and sunshine seems to stand greatly in fear that there is about to descend upon their city and its environs a frost. Just think of it, a frost.

"And as I look out at this snow in the street there, I wonder what is necessary to constitute contentment?" concluded Mr. Miller.

Missionary Society to Help Industrial Home

The Parwincoleve, or Eastside group of the Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church, which announced a meeting for Thursday morning, will not meet until Thursday afternoon, this week, at the parlors of the church.

Under the direction of the supply committee, Mrs. D. R. Dennison, Mrs. Cynthia LaRowe and Miss M. E. Brown, they will spend the afternoon making rag rugs, and dresser scarfs to be donated to the new Frances DePauw Mission home, an industrial home for Spanish girls, that has just been completed, on Sunset boulevard in Hollywood, at a cost of $60,000, and which was dedicated last Sunday by Bishop Adna W. Leonard.

There are now 120 girls in the home being cared for and trained to be self supporting.

The Chinese have observed their annual dragon boat festival since 450 B. C.

'RIGOLETTO' WILL BE GLENDALE SCREEN ATTRACTION

Metropolitan Operatic Triumph Shows Here at Regular Admission Prices

In screening the famous grand opera "Rigoletto" the producers have followed more than the situations of Verdi's libretto, the Victor Hugo novel "Le Roi S'Amuse"—"The King Amuses Himself."

It is the first time that a famous grand opera has been filmed, and Rigoletto is without any doubt a masterpiece both as to action and scenery. It will be seen at the Glendale theatre beginning today.

The leading man in the screen version is not only a great Italian singer but a great actor, while Signorina Liana Haid has been proclaimed the successor to Eleonora Dusa, the famous Italian actress, and recently has been engaged as leading lady for a great production which will prove a sensation the world over, the scenario of which has been written by Gabriel D'Annunzio, author of "Cabiria."

At Regular Price Here

Besides these two big stars there is a super-cast of real actors, most of them belonging to the famous La Scala, of Milan, Italy.

The Rigoletto film has been shown for three hundred consecutive days at the big auditorium in Rome, and has had a triumphant run all over Italy. In the United States this production has been shown in the great theatres generally at grand opera prices.

Manager Howe of the Glendale theatre has spared no expense to secure this artistic film for his patrons, and, disregarding its cost, will be shown at regular prices.

A specially compiled musical score from the opera rendered on the great organ by Paul Carson will furnish an added charm to an already charming entertainment.

Local Women Attend Rainbow Auxiliary

Mrs. J. H. Rockhold and Mrs. M. C. Cline of Burchett street were among the guests at a very beautiful luncheon given recently at the home of Mrs. Snyder on Van Ness avenue, Los Angeles, for the members of the Rainbow Auxiliary. Twenty-four members were present, and a delicious luncheon served.

The afternoon was spent with needlework, fashioning needful garments for the families of ex-service men. They are pleased to report that the convalescent camp for ex-service men, at LaVerne, which the auxiliary assisted in furnishing, is now in operation, with twelve cottages furnished and twenty-four deserving ex-service men are now deriving great benefit from the camp life and comfort, being able to leave the hospitals and still receive care.

This auxiliary will probably furnish another cottage, as there are several vacant ones, and they met with such prompt response to their calls for the necessary supplies for the others.

Books, however damaged, can be repaired and missing pages replaced by special treatment, which is, however, very costly.

TWO GREAT MEN

February marks the birthday of America's two greatest men—Lincoln and Washington. It was their leadership and calm judgment which has made possible the preeminence of this country today.

Both well knew the importance of thrift in the prosperity of either a man or a nation. Washington once said: "Economy makes happy homes and sound nations—instill it deep." Lincoln's expression was even more direct: "Teach economy, that is one of the first virtues, it begins with saving money."

Have you followed these precepts? Are you saving?
